HALL COUNTY COMMUNITY COLLABORATIVE MEMBERSHIP OVERVIEW

While participation in Hall County Community Collaborative (H3C) meetings and activities is open to any citizen, organization or business in Hall County, the Collaboration derives its mandate from partner organizations and individuals. Members are identified through paid Membership Dues and signed Membership Agreements.

Qualifications for Members

Members can be individuals, organizations, institutions, businesses or coalitions within Grand Island or serving Grand Island.

Member Responsibilities

Hall County Community Collaborative Members:

- Provide overall direction to the activities of H3C through strategic planning, serving on committees and task forces, and attending meetings;
- Share data and expertise to develop comprehensive assessments, plans and actions;
- Work collaboratively with other Members to identify linkages, actions, skills and resources which will be used to implement or enhance healthy communities through prevention systems and plans;
- Participate and promote collaborative training and education which enhances leadership and change within Grand Island.

Member Benefits

For the Member

Benefits of being a partner in the H3C include:

- Participation in collaborative training and education at reduced rates.
- Participation in identifying needed policy changes that enhance rural practice and promoting such policy changes.
- Working with state and federal leaders in fields of child well-being on creative innovations and practices.
- Opportunities to enhance resources and outcomes through collaboration.
- Recognition as champion for Child Well Being in Grand Island.
- Eligible for H3C Board membership

For the Coalition

The collaborative strength of the H3C is demonstrated through Membership agreements required to provide innovations in leadership and Child Well Being.

Membership Dues

Membership fees will be used to identify voting members of the Collaboration and to supplement decreasing grant income used to support the day-to-day management of H3C (fiscal management, processing invoices, annual audit, meeting costs – copies, consulting fees, etc.) to create sustainability for the operating structure of H3C.
